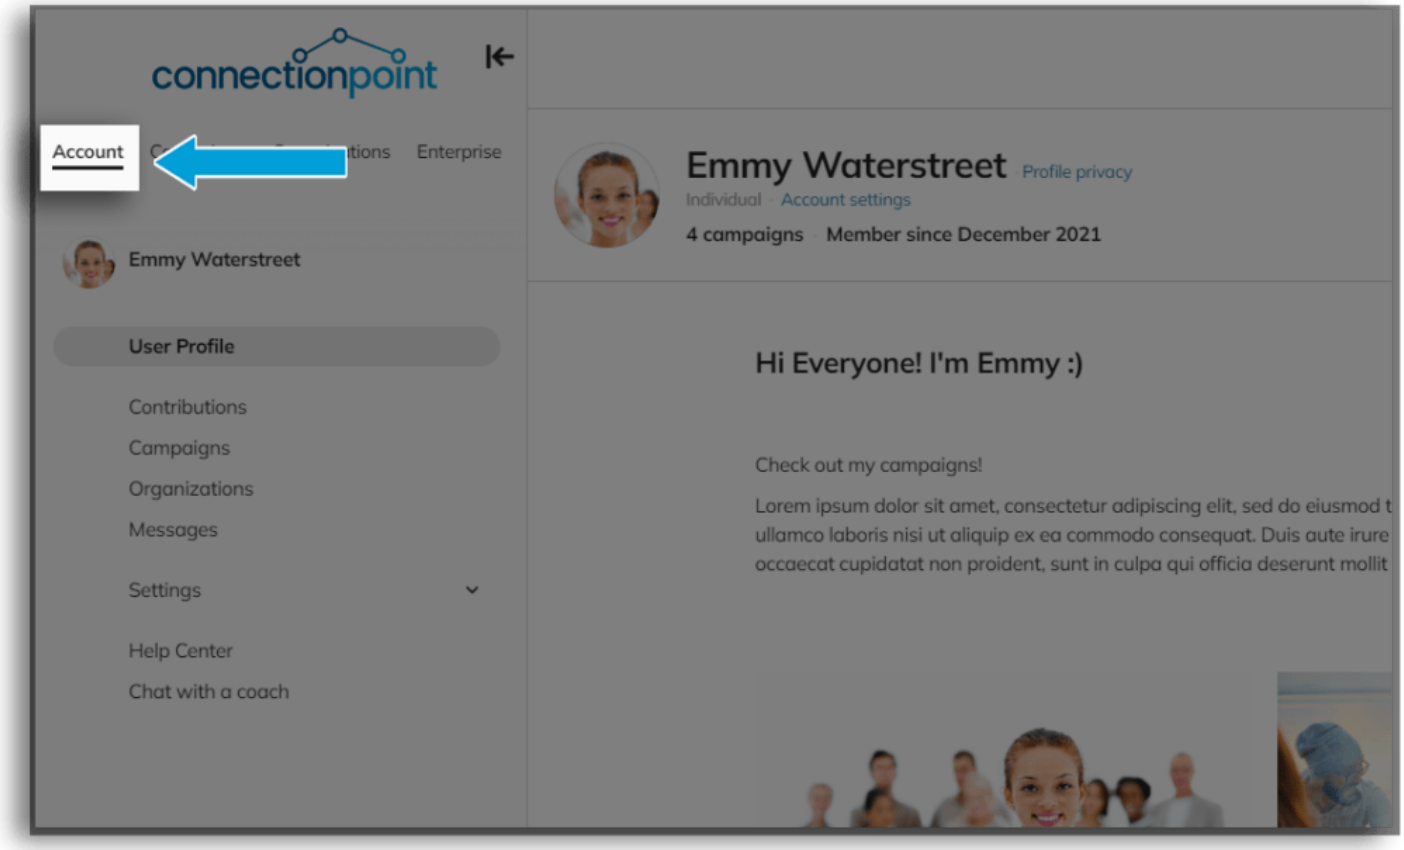
Changing user profile privacy

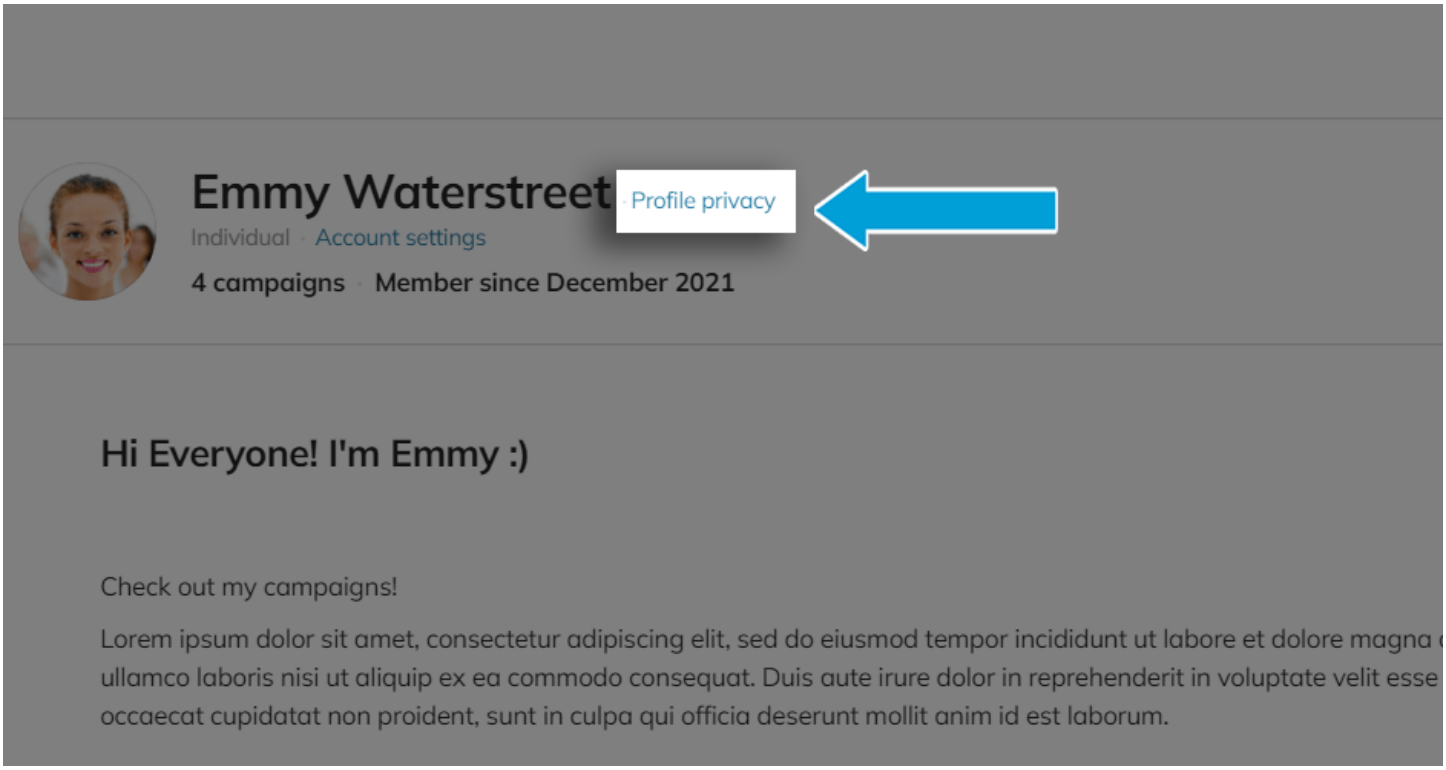
General User Account Information · https://connectionpoint.com/help/docs/changing-user-profile-privacy/

Your user profile page is a public-facing page with its own site address that anyone can view. You can, however, change profile privacy settings to hide your profile from being searchable on a search engine (like Google or DuckDuckGo) as well as hide your activity.

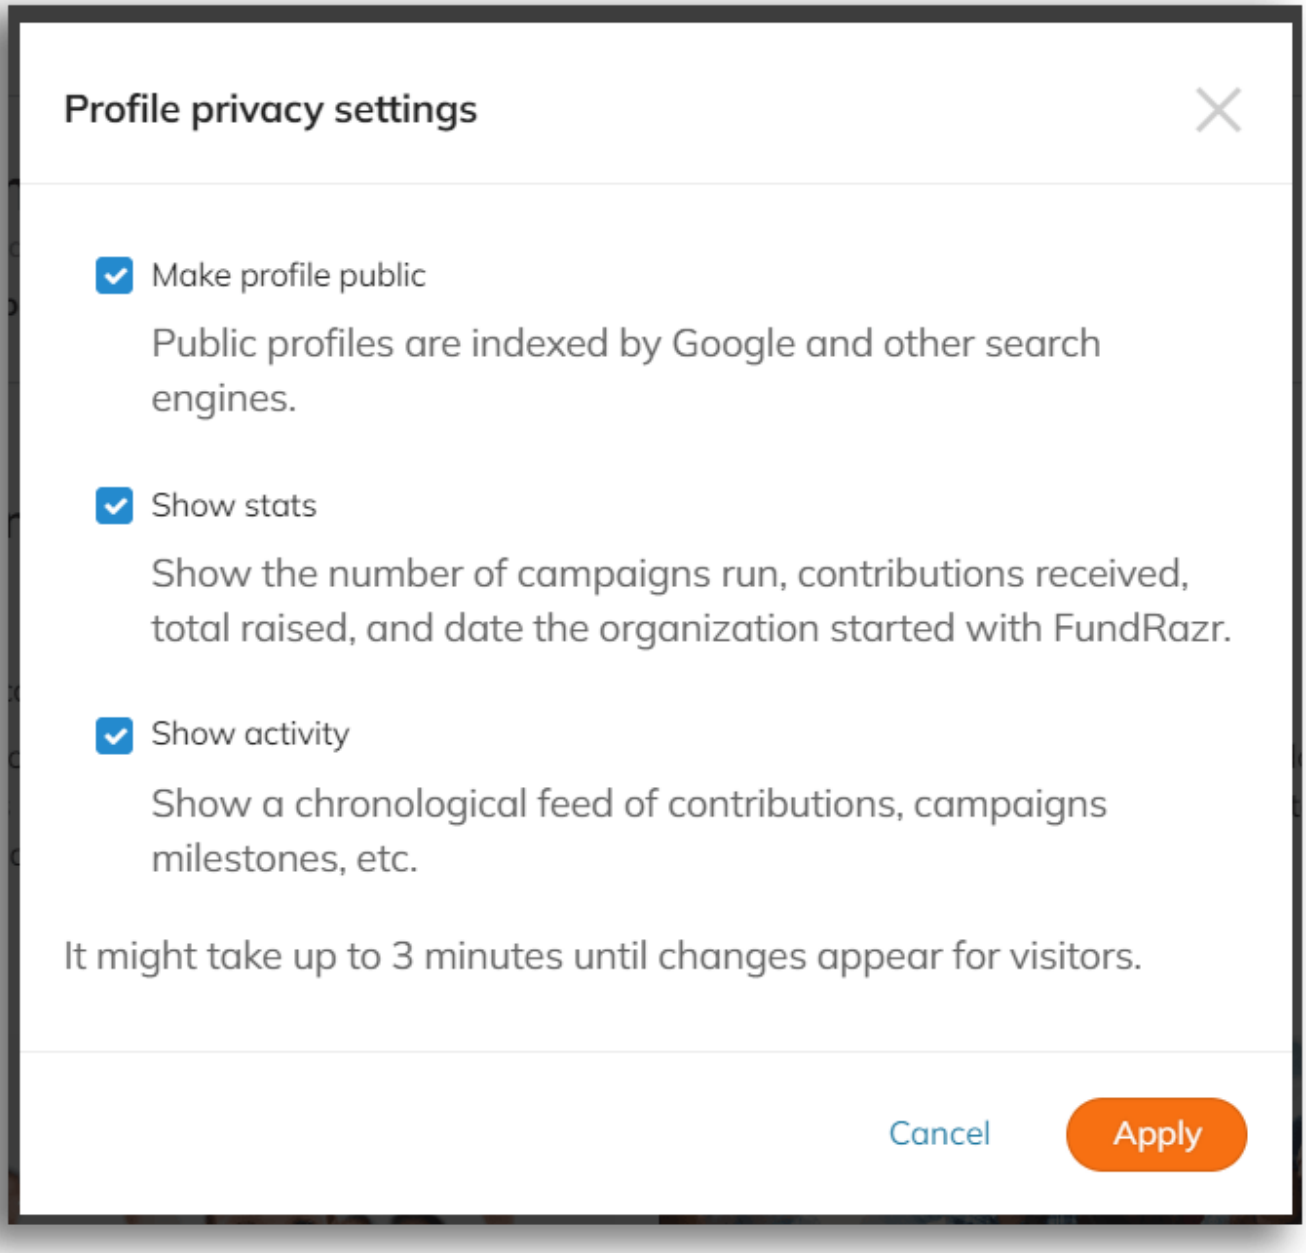
STEP 1 - View your user profile by clicking 'Account' in the navigation menu header.



STEP 2 - Click the 'Profile privacy' link next to your name.



STEP 3 - Make your choices, then click 'Apply.'



Profile privacy settings
Make profile public
Public profiles are indexed by Google and other search engines.
Show stats
Show the number of campaigns run, contributions received, total raised, and date the organization started with FundRazr.
Show activity
Show a chronological feed of contributions, campaigns milestones, etc.
It might take up to 3 minutes until changes appear for visitors.
